

Wm. Adams

Bushington House
Wednesday Morning 10 Clock.

Dear Payne

I was desired last night in case I had had an opportunity to give the Prince of Wales the following information. As His Royal Highness had left Mr Crawford's before I received it. I now convey it to you. That you may lay it before His Royal Highness. "The Sheriffs accompanied by the Town Clerk & the Recorder will present the Thanks of the City to His Royal Highness & any room will be fit for their Reception. That ^{Thanks} not being in the form of an Address He has only to make a civil civil answer to them upon receiving the Thanks. In the same stile as if a Book were presented to him by The Author!"

From this you will see that there is no Neuspity for making any excuse for not receiving them: & I submit it to you whether upon this first instance of Personal approach It will not be better to receive them readily.

If I had not been afraid of not being able to have called upon you in time I would have given you this information I would have saved you the trouble of this Letter.

Yours ever most faithfully
William Adam
