

p. 41.

Harrow.
April 17: 1819.

Dear Daniell,

Your ^{the} instant audit & various enclosures arrived yesterday and I return the usual papers signed and the list of furniture supplied to the new gardener: I hope he will labour and prove a good and honest servant: I have long had the worst opinion of Allen and rejoice he is gone: the owner George discharged the better: I approve altogether of the allowances to the new gardener and most highly of the premises or Dots: I think Crato right in his way of proceeding for this season and ever remain,

Yours sincerely
 J. J. Ashurst

[Faint, illegible cursive handwriting on aged, yellowed paper. The text is mirrored across the page, suggesting bleed-through from the reverse side.]

