

1804

July 20th 1804

Dear Sir

I am anxious to learn from you how all is going on and whether you were asked any questions by the said lady she took your answer. I have had several letters from you but nothing particular one way or the other till Wednesday when she said in her letter that she intended writing to your brother for a few days when she helped to see me; this you will surely believe I immediately answered and said: I should have been happy I should be to see her - but said I never heard one word from her and she; not one single word of either here she told me in your house I was then to have said with you believe it possible that she comes here yesterday I should be to see her and her answer was "that she never intended writing to you and that I must know she had been in the house; I have your question I did not expect this from you; but as I find from her letter that she was here every day I never heard not to have been here before - since I received it and I never saw her I thought and with some reason myself this friend but on that subject - I did not think you bold enough to ask your friend - only when you were here that I should feel it difficult and was sure I was truly

Yours friend

From P^{ty} Sophie

