

Brighton.
Sunday Evening.

Dear Daniell,

I am to acknowledge your letter yesterday and shall be most happy to hear from Boston of the final departure of the Mauser. I shall also hope your Commet will be no more before my return home:

I make no doubt all will go on well under your inspection in and out of plains and I trust the new Mauser keeper will turn out a respectable woman: a short time will bring every body to their proper duty and I make no doubt regularity economy and comfort will be effected by you:

I shall hope soon to see you and ever remain,

Yours sincerely
A. S.
