My dearest Son. Though my Head & Face still continue to plague me very much. I will not omit any longer to return You thanks for Your affectionate congratulations, of which I shall not fail to inform the King whenever a proper opportunity does offer.

I am sorry not to be able to accompany this with the Physicians opinion about Your ^{the Time of} seeing the King ~~at Windsor~~, but You may depend upon my reading it to morrow Morning ^{as} early as possible can. I beg You will inform the Duke of York of this with my Compliments & believe me very sincerely

My dearest Son

Your very affectionate
Mother & Friend
