Dear Sir,

07
Your "Post Private and Confidential" of this day has reached me and rest to my confidence in God I entirely rely on you for every medical assistance the thing can have. Your reasoning is so clear that I can fully understand the present state of His Majesty and perceiving you treat me with the civility I have to your own discretion the propriety of prescribing less often or not as you will be guided by the actual situation of the Monarch each day.
I hope for the best and must be anxious for the welfare and recovery of health of the husband most beloved of our reigns Mother and Son.

Yours remain,

Dear Sir,

Yours truly

W. Pitt Rivers
