The Duchess of Brunswick has the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 10th inst. and to assure you that she has been very glad to hear from you and to receive the news of your recovery.
She is now at the residence of the Duke of Brunswick and is very well at present.
She has not yet had time to write you more fully but she will do so as soon as possible.
Believe me, dear Madam,
to be very truly,
Your affectionate
cousin,
The Duchess of Brunswick

My dearest brother with a thousand good wishes for P Royal, I have to congratulate ^{you} on her marriage, may she be as happy as she deserves, I am very glad that you have permitted them to come here, it's always a great comfort for me to see any of your good children & in this moment I feel vastly for you too part with a child, & the noise which attend every marriage must make you uneasy, tho' by what I have heard of the Princeps there is no fear of things not being quite as the best of fathers could wish, Mad: de Spigle is much commended, her husband was in England with the Duke when I married, she knows very little of a court having lived very retir'd, very soon one know the routine of a court, & provided that she is attached to her duties, & I hope to the Princeps, for it's terrible to have people you that is spying all ones faults, pour on faire usage against us, I can not finish without hoping that your birthday may return many many years & be every year more comfortable to you is the wish of your most devoted humble
