

The Queen of Denmark

20th October 1766

52290

Sir

I am to leave this place tomorrow, and am to come to my journey's end in a fortnight. I think I am very safe from being deceived by Madame de Plese, as she has the appearance of a very false Woman, she tells me the whole day how she and the rest of her country people love me, though they have not seen me, and she cannot help crying when she thinks how like I am to my Aunt. I like the Dame Datoan much better, she is very civil, and does not flatter me, they appear not to be very fond of each other, which gives me no bad opinion of the latter. I have the honor of being, your

Majesty's Dutiful
Subject and Sister
Caroline,

Stona Oct 20 1766.

dame d'atour = lady in waiting

Blank rectangular area at the top of the page.

Large rectangular area containing extremely faint, illegible handwriting, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the paper.