Richmond.

October 26. 1789.

Sir,

I have taken the liberty of sending to your Majesty two West India sheep just arrived from Commissioner Hartley's estate in Antigua which I am to request your Majesty will be pleased to accept. Having been led to believe that the sheep I lately had the honour of presenting proved acceptable I trust these will be equally so.

I cannot conclude without expressing my satisfaction at the pleasing accounts of your Majesty's present state of health.

I am, Sir,

Your Majesty's most affectionate and most dutiful Grand Subject,

J. H. M.
