Dear Sir,

By the information I have received since I saw you this morning (from Legation West) I find Mr. Meyer is entirely under the government of his wife who is a clever woman and whose sister Mrs. Bradburn is as you know a lady of abilities: both husbands and wives are well together and the object to discover is first what Meyer has to do with Spufford and the Solicitor General as he is taking notes at the Bar of the Law and returning after the vic-tories: the next object is if that business any information can be obtained of the plan they in-tend to pursue as they have again moved for re-

-mitment.

I ever remain,

Yours sincerely

J. O.
