H. R. H. Mr. Duke of

Gloucester

Dear Brother,

I was not till this morning I heard from the Queen that you had met with an accident - a fall serious: the persons informed me you was confined: but I had imagined it was a thing of no consequence: however the account from the Queen and myself has induced me to write this to enquire after your health and to take this opportunity of assuring you again and again how much I am attached to you and your interests: believe me my Dear Brother no one loves you more sincerely winded by experience has more reason to be so gratefully bound: as yet Mr. Windsor was thinking I shall not be able to see you till Autumn from there but I mean without fail to say you adieu as Autumn: I will dine with you often the evening on any day that I am in London is enjoyed in town: advice for the present and ever believe me, Yours affectionately
