

[To Danell, Duke of Clarence's Agent at Busby House]

J. James's.

June 11: 1821.

Dear Sir,

The weather is so very damp and the better I am not perfectly well and under the hands of the doctor, I think it will be wiser to put off my visit to Busby for another week. I hope however that they will prevent my being with you on the twentieth.

I fancy the Officer is with Clerk and I should hope the necessary have issued to the Secy. at least the application has been made.

The Dutchess and her infant are achieving most prosperity; but the weather is against every thing that has life: I suppose the pavement of the Hall will <sup>be</sup> nearly finished, but I find the Queen's Dressing Room completed: I hope next summer to be able once more to retreat to Besby: the Dutchess is very anxi-ous to be there and it will be much more healthy for the child: adieu and ever believe me,

Dear Sir,

Yours sincerely

William

[To Daniell, Duke of Clarence's Agent at Busby House]

most in every
ment.
I shall
dated:
nets
and homage
be his
will be of the
of the
of the