

[Early in 1821.]

[? Inquiring for his child, Elizabeth 1st daughter of Dorothy Clarence.]

St James's.
 Wednesday night.
 Dear Daniell,
 The Deletings and myself being engaged to dine next Saturday with the Thyrnes shall not be able to go on that day to see you will therefore come under the post horses and dismiss the paper hanger to be there on the Twentieth for which day you will be so good as to send the post horses from the City.

I think on consideration the two false laws had better be repealed in the Dutch 13th year in 1711: a law till the Quintessence and never believe me,

Yours sincerely

J. D.
