

? 1817

Before D. Clarence's daughters' removal to London.
Same Mrs. Sammett as in early 1818.

[To Daniell, Duke of Clarence's Agent at Bussy House]

St. James's.

Tuesday Morning.

Dear Sir,

Last night received from you yesterday. I am glad you have written to me for I must not interfere with the de-partments. I have franked the letter. I hope of this side have not to have occasion either for Wright or Parlow: you have done quite right in giving Carter a Check on Boston:
I must the beds over the Pitcher well for the future be kept clean: I suppose of all the Bills going to Ware: Sammett shall be in

? 1817

Before D. Clarence's daughters' removal to London.
Same Mrs Sammett as in early 1818.

[To Danell, Duke of Clarence's Agent at Busby House]

[The main body of the document is a large, blank, aged, cream-colored sheet of paper, possibly an enclosure or a page that has been removed or is otherwise blank. Faint handwritten text is visible on the left edge of the page, but it is mostly illegible.]