25 June 1765

Sir,

With a heart overflowing with Duty and Gratitude to the most gracious of Sovereigns, I will punctually attend your Majesty to morrow morning according to your Commands. too happy and too glorious the remnant of a poor life, could I have been seconded in my unwavering Zeal, and Devotion to Your Majesty's Service, Honour, and Happiness. I am with the most profound veneration,

Sir,

Your Majesty's

most Satisfull
and most submissive
Servant
