 Extract from Sir Jeffery Amherst's Letter to the Secretary at War, dated 26th April 1763. N^o. 2.

As you are pleased to mention to me the King's intentions of disbanding the Independent Companies, I cannot but observe that the formation of those Coops has not so well answered the good of the Service; as I could have wished, and had it been thought proper to keep them on foot, my humble opinion would have been, to have formed them in a Corps with Field Officers, in order to render them more serviceable.
