

Ld. Rockingham

June 3 1766

441

Lord Rockingham humbly presumes to acquaint his Majesty that on his Majesty's Message being communicated to the House of Lords - the Duke of Richmond moved & proposed the Address & was seconded by the D. of Newcastle. No other Lord spoke. The House was not full but many Lords & Bishops were present. The Temple &c were not there.

Lord Rockingham has presumed to enclose to his Majesty a sketch for his Majesty's speech, or has already shewn it to some Lords in his Majesty's service. It will be shewn this evening at the meeting at the Chancellor's who has seen it. Lord Rockingham imagines there will not be many alterations made there or shall have the Honour
