

Prince of Wales to Lord Archibald Hamilton

Durdens the 4. of June 1744

My Dr Lovel, I wont tell you how much the loss you have had, has struck us all here; <sup>L<sup>dy</sup></sup> Archibald is vastly concern'd as you may imagin, but bears it with that Christian patience you know she has; I hope you make use of the reason you have I own in losing so promising a Boy, you want it. Pray tell Miss Hamilton her Mama is well, and I hope she takes care of you, and her self. I hope you have sent for Fredely, and William home, and keep'em some days with you, which will be some comfort to 'em. I know the trouble you have in writing, therefore desire you not to answer me. <sup>July</sup> Archibald will come home to morrow night. Believe me always your good friend,

J. M. P.
