

Most Secret
and Confidential.

Bushy Mount.
April 21. 1830.
J. P. M.

Dear Sir,

I have just received Yours' Most Secret and Confidential of this day which I properly value.

On the whole the account that God is pleased - to send you of your entrance to and that on Friday I may have the happiness and satisfaction of finding our beloved Sovereign in a progressive state of improvement.

I shall be at the Castle of Jerusalem before one and we are most highly and gratefully the friends and prayers of the King and also thank you gratefully for these prayers that accompany your grace of His Majesty's graces me page to me. I cannot forget the winter to see his friends here that has not

 - I between the King and me for thirteen years years and I trust from the bottom of my heart I shall really find next Friday the best of brethren masters and men, advancing in a
 - several to me, and your own presence and affectionate men for more ease upon the "single symptom" which produces with you such painful anxiety. I may only on my perfect and complete silence and I remain,

Dear Sir,

Yours truly

W. Marsh

[Faint, illegible handwriting on a large sheet of paper pasted onto the page. The text is mostly obscured by the texture and color of the paper.]

[Faint handwriting visible along the left edge of the page, possibly from an adjacent page or a margin.]