

No one my dear William could be happier than I was when I received your kind letter; the flowers I cherish very much as they come from you, but the letter I like most admire. Elizabeth and me divided very fairly every thing you was so kind to send us, but I begged to have the letter therefore she had the Box the flowers came in. We received them last Sunday the coronation day, and I wore in the evening a nosegay of your roses.

If you remember you say in the end of your letter that you send us the flowers to put us in mind of our Brother William, but pray be assured that you are and always will be one of the most uppermost in my thoughts.

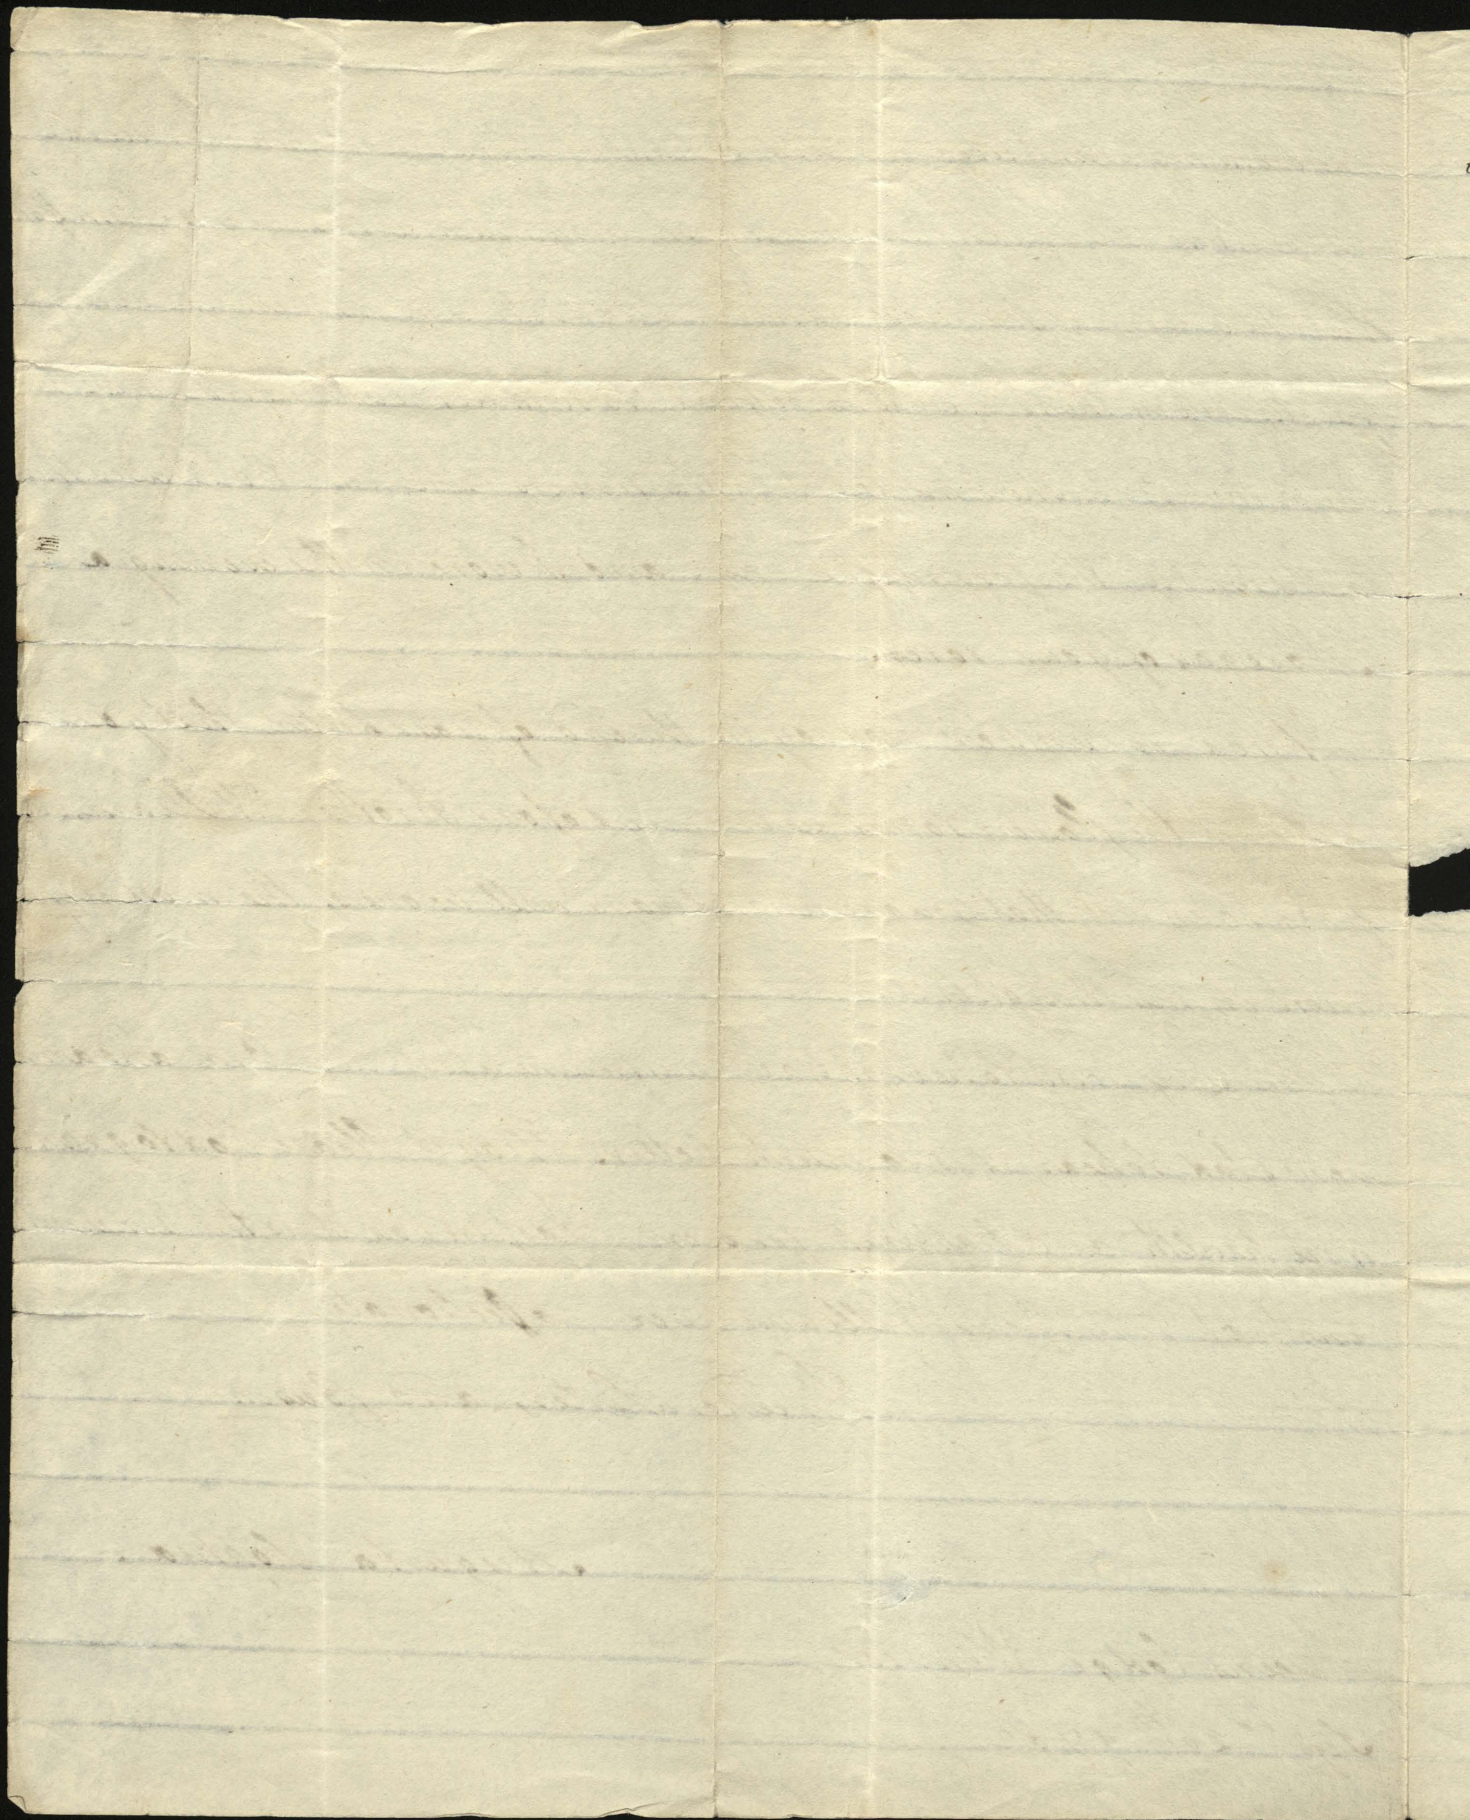

I am very sorry to hear of your misfortune about your Arm and am very glad to hear it is so much better. May it please God to grant you health and happiness forever. I assure you it is the sincerest wish of My Dear Williams ever affectionate
