

Bushy House.

Dec: 15: 1824.

Lute at Night.

My Dear Madam, I have to your Lordship's constant remembrance some injuries concerning Mr. Smith has been so properly managed after so long and fatiguing a matter to her decased husband.

The more I hear of the particulars of the will the more I am pleased with the Charities. Smith had too many relations to think of public Charities. I suppose of the Legation.

The Dutchess has heard from the Countess up to whom we both by the Countess kindly and particularly remembered.
 I suppose by and by you three will be going to London in which case the Dutchess and myself will meet you
 -self and the Countess here.

I want your opinion of Ireland which is becoming critical. I am afraid we still differ as to the means of restoring tranquillity there. I am equally with your Lordship the decided enemy of the Catholic Brethren and the determination and support of Papist Priests.

God bless your and your children's,

Dear George,
I am ever affectionately
Yours
William
