

Buckingham Palace,
 Jan^y: 21: 1828.

My Dear Lord,

In whatever hands my letter the King may place his Government, I conceive it to be my duty to express that, more or less, I shall have sincere pleasure in forwarding the just and honorable views of my friend, your Lordship's worthy brother the Dean with any two Lieutenants as I am confident your Lordship will equally go with the Minister of His Majesty.

I am believe me

My Dear Lord,

Yours most truly
