St. James's.

Sunday Afternoon.

Half past Eight.

Dear Brother, Your Majesty's wish have to me command and I peculiarly admire the appropriate suggestion of Elizabeth in time of Georgia.

The Duke has said he both continues well:
the next messenger arrived and their part takes kindly to the least.

I remain,

Your Majesty's most affectionate and most dutiful Brother and Subject

J. Ashurst

His R. Highness
The Duke of Clarence to
The King
